Project: Three Small Houses
Architects: Stephen Taylor Architects, London

Brief: To occupy a small infill site in the London east end neighbourhood of Bethnal Green. To replace a post war single storey shed with three storey houses and to complete an urban block made up of diverse building types. The brief required residential use to be brought to the site in line with the local authorities policy for housing growth and the borough's intensification of brownfield urban sites.
